Man and AEOI Compliance

Governments around the world have introduced new information-gathering and reporting requirements for financial institutions with which Man Group and the Funds we manage are obligated to comply. These requirements are collectively referred to as Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) requirements.

AEOI requirements have been introduced to provide tax authorities globally with greater transparency over financial assets (and associated income) held offshore. This page provides further information on AEOI requirements and what it means for you.

AEOI regulations

AEOI requirements arise from two principle sets of regulations, which have been adopted in over 100 jurisdictions globally, namely US FATCA (Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act - introduced by the US Government) and the CRS (Common Reporting Standard – introduced by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, “OECD”).

What are Man funds required to do?

Under these regulations Man, and other similar Financial Institutions, are obliged to determine where you are “tax resident” and, for FATCA, whether you are a US person. Financial Institutions then have to complete reporting to relevant tax authorities where investors are identified to be tax resident outside of the jurisdiction where an investment is held (or to be a US person). This will require Man to:

- Collect and review tax information during on-boarding of all new clients through collection of valid self-certifications and/or US Inland Revenue Service (IRS) W-series forms from investors;
- Review information held in respect of our existing investor base and request additional information from investors where necessary;
- Complete annual reporting to relevant tax authorities in respect of those investors identified as being a US person (under FATCA) or CRS reportable persons (under CRS) based on the their tax residency and as per the requirements of the relevant regulations.

Potential impact on investors

AEOI regimes may impact you whether you are an individual investor or an entity/business investor. The impact will typically depend on the type of investment you hold, where your investment is held and where you live or operate as a business.

We may request you to complete self-certifications and/or IRS W-series forms in order to help us correctly classify you for the purposes of the regimes, and where appropriate will report necessary information securely to relevant tax authorities.

It is therefore important that the information you provide is accurate and valid in order to help us establish your tax status. We may not be able to accept your investment if you choose not to provide the requested information and any existing investments you hold may also be restricted on redemptions.

US FATCA Rules is enforced by imposing a 30% US tax on US-source payments such as dividends, interests and sales proceeds paid to non-participating FFIs (Foreign Financial Institutions i.e. financial institutions that have not signed an agreement with the IRS). FATCA withholding, in general does not apply in these participating jurisdictions, however US tax regulations of Chapter 3 withholding may still apply.

Additional information

If you require further information or have any questions concerning the FATCA or CRS regulations, please refer to the website links below or speak to a tax advisor. Please be aware that we are not in a position to provide investor tax advice.

Self-Certification forms: Where required we will provide you with the relevant self-certification forms to complete. Please contact your relationship service provider if you have not received these forms.

Taxpayer Identification Numbers (TIN): Self-certification forms include requests for TIN information. Your TIN is a unique combination of letters and/or numbers assigned to you/your entity. Some countries do not issue a TIN, but may rely on other issued numbers such as social security/national insurance numbers or company registration numbers for entities. You may need to provide these if requested. The OECD has published a list of the acceptable Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) formats:

Man Asset Management (Ireland) Limited

Principal Adverse Impacts

In accordance with the discretion granted pursuant to Article 4(1)(b) of SFDR, Man Asset Management (Ireland) Limited ("MAMIL") does not currently consider the principal adverse impacts ("PAI") of investment decisions on sustainability factors or issue a statement on its website, in relation to the due diligence policies with respect to those impacts at the level of MAMIL. MAMIL is supportive of the policy aims of the PAI regime, to improve transparency to clients, investors and the market, as to how financial market participants integrate consideration of the adverse impacts of their investment decisions on sustainability factors. However, taking account of MAMIL's size, the nature and scale of its activities and the types of products MAMIL makes available, MAMIL considers that it would be disproportionate to comply with the specific regime in the SFDR at this time. MAMIL will continue to review its position in relation to the consideration and publication of adverse impacts.

Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited

Sustainability risks and Remuneration policy

Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited is not subject to a requirement under applicable EU sectoral legislation to establish and maintain a remuneration policy. We have not therefore integrated consideration of sustainability risks into any remuneration policy required under EU sectoral legislation, in accordance with Article 5 Sustainable Finance Disclosures Regulation.

Principal Adverse Impacts

Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited does not currently consider the principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors pursuant to Article 4 of SFDR (either generally or in relation to the funds it manages) (the "PAI regime"). Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited is supportive of the policy aims of the PAI regime, to improve transparency to clients, investors and the market, as to how financial market participants integrate consideration of the adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors. However, taking account of the types of products Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited makes available, Man Asset Management (Cayman) Limited considers that it would be disproportionate to comply with the specific PAI regime of the SFDR.

Man Fund Management UK Limited

Principal Adverse Impacts

In accordance with the discretion granted pursuant to Article 4(1)(b) of SFDR, Man Fund Management UK Limited ("MFM UK") does not currently consider the principal adverse impacts ("PAI") of investment decisions on sustainability factors or issue a statement on its website, in relation to the due diligence policies with respect to those impacts at the level of MFM UK. MFM UK is supportive of the policy aims of the PAI regime, to improve transparency to clients, investors and the market, as to how financial market participants integrate consideration of the adverse impacts of their investment decisions on sustainability factors. However, taking account of MFM UK's size, the nature and scale of its activities and the types of products MFM UK makes available, MFM UK considers that it would be disproportionate to comply with the specific regime in the SFDR at this time. MFM UK will continue to review its position in relation to the consideration and publication of adverse impacts.

Voice Recording Disclosure

Man is subject to regulations that require us to record certain telephone and electronic communications undertaken by our employees. As such, communications with external parties may also be recorded and monitored and in certain jurisdictions you may have a right to request a copy of the recording of relevant communications.
