Best in Class

We've been designing, manufacturing, sourcing and distributing superior high-quality products for more than 125 years. Our approach to and management of the complexities of a global supply chain provides us with a competitive advantage that enables us to deliver the right products, at the right time to consumers across the globe.

Our skills in sourcing are uniquely complemented by an engineering expertise that's reflected in our owned manufacturing facilities. We leverage this engineering expertise to help develop our sourcing partners in key regions around the world. This helps us responsibly and sustainably source and manufacture the apparel that retailers and consumers expect from our iconic brands.
